Charlie is a small, short boy who only has eyes for Inés. However she is a tall, pretty girl who is noticed by everyone, but she never notices him. He does everything he can to get her attention, but it's impossible: it's as if Inés doesn't even know he exists. But there is hope; one day Inés tells everyone at school that she is getting "seeing glasses" and Charlie is sure that their eyes will finally meet...
